

Our highly popular Select XLS White range of infrared panels offers a fantastic combination of performance, quality and price, and incorporates Herschel's SMART-R receiver technology integrated into the panel to enable flexible control via our XLS thermostats (sold separately). Simple, easy to use, smartphone-enabled efficient heating, or even voice control when used with Alexa or Google Assistant. This super-slim, plug and play frameless panel is straightforward to use, it comes with a UK plug and can be easily mounted with Herschel's EASYFIX mounting system making them perfect for DIY or retrofit installations.

Optional feet are available for portable use. For a professional installation the plug can be removed and the panel can be hard wired to the mains and ceiling or wall mounted. Herschel Select XLS delivers all the benefits of low energy, efficient infrared heating and is built from high quality, solid-state components for optimum performance and longevity. Our packaging is close to 100% recyclable and over 95% of the heater is fully recyclable at end of life - the perfect choice for homes and businesses looking for a low carbon and low environmental impact heating solution. Select XLS White comes with a 5 year warranty.
